

This is a day by day Conference program. Most papers are available for download. If your paper is still missing, we encourage you to submit it to the GTAP Resource Center as soon as possible.

Each of the three days features a Plenary Session in the morning. The plenary speakers are intellectual leaders in their respective fields and their presentations are designed to introduce participants to new topics as well as providing fresh insights into familiar topics. The content of these three sessions reflect the overall themes of the Conference: International Trade, Poverty and the Environment.

Days One and Two feature Policy Panels, the first of these focuses on the Doha Round of WTO talks and the second on Regional Integration in the Americas. These panels are designed to stimulate discussion regarding contemporary policy issues, providing participants with insights into the policy process as well as guidance regarding the types of analysis would be most useful in future studies.

There are also more than 150 contributed papers being presented at this conference. They are organized along the lines of the overall conference themes, and reviewers have selected several papers on each topic to be featured in special sessions. These will be held in the auditorium and they have been allocated additional time. The conference organizing committee also put together a series of special sessions, based on the contributed papers. These, too, have been highlighted in the program.

Important

Presentations should be 15 minutes long for regular sessions, and 20 minutes long for feature sessions. The rest is allocated to discussion. Remember to bring your presentation in electronic format on a CD-ROM or USB thumb drive. We will not accept diskettes. Also remember to bring a photo ID for your security badge.

Wednesday, June 16

1:30 - 3:00 pm Pre-registration (World Bank Lobby)

3:00 - 5:00 pm Training Session: World Integrated Trade Solutions (WITS) (MC4-W150)

This special session is opened to all registered conference participants. .

WITS is software, developed by the World Bank in collaboration with UNCTAD, that allows users to retrieve and analyze trade and tariff information from (currently) five databases; the UN Statistical Division's COMTRADE; UNCTAD's TRAINS; WTO's IDB and CTS; and the Agricultural Market Access Database Consortium's AMAD database. This session will cover both the databases and the software. The WITS team will demonstrate how to:

- check data availability by country, year and product classification for each database
- view these data by the various product classifications, reporting countries, direction of trade flows, products, or years
- create and save queries for multiple countries, products, years and flows
- create user defined country and product groups; calculate tariff statistics
- calculate tariff statistics
- simulate the effects on both bound and applied tariff structures of tariff reduction proposals submitted to the WTO?
- simulate the partial equilibrium effects of tariff change scenarios on trade flows, tariff revenue and welfare
- save and export extracted or computed data (i.e. to MS Excel) for further computation.

More information about WITS.
