Subject: [GTAP-l] CGE modeller wanted
Attachments: ATT00001.txt

KPMG Economics provides a wide range of consultancy services for domestic and international clients. Our services include macroeconomic forecasting and economywide modelling, and are seeking to expand the team by hiring an experienced CGE modeller. Applicants should be able to work as part of a team in a dynamic and stimulating work environment. The role includes model development, interpreting and communicating model results, and report writing. Applicants should have a PhD in CGE modelling, or equivalent experience, using the GEMPACK suite of programs, and good communication skills. Salary will be negotiated commensurate with experience and skills. This position is located in Brisbane. Applicants should send their CV, a 1-page covering letter and two examples of their writing to Dr George Verikios at gverikios@kpmg.com.au.
